Please note that students in the MA Education cohorts have one term in the summer, two terms in the fall and two terms in the spring. MA Coaching students should note that they have three terms in the summer, two terms in the fall and one term in the spring. MBA and MEd students have two terms each in the fall and spring but can also take semester long classes. When trying to figure out what semester a course falls under, look at the beginning date of the class. Whatever semester the class starts in is the semester the class is considered to fall under.
