

Education-Portal.com, has established several new graduate level academic awards for the 2010 academic year.

These $500 awards are designed for students pursuing master degrees. Applications are reviewed by our selection committee, and a winner is chosen for each award after the April 1st, 2010 deadline. Complete eligibility requirements are listed on each award.

These opportunities are in addition to several undergraduate awards we currently offer. A complete directory of all our scholarships can be found here:
